Al Kaufman is seeking a match with Qua Rublin, but the latter is doing some side-stepping in spite of his claim to the championshp by posting a forfeit to fight any of the heavies.

From the way Tommy Murphy is fighting all comers and beating them, he will soon be entitled to a return match with Terry McGovern, unless Terry should by hook or crook be able to get on a match with Bat Nelson and to stow him away, one of the possibilities, but hardly probable. "I know they think I am going out with the tide," said Robert Fitzsim-mons, the other day. "But there's a whole room full of fellows who are preparing to write 'Here lies old Fitz, goodbye and God bless him,' but they will be fooled. I am as confident that I can take O'Brien's measure as I am that I can still put a slice of steak to the bad at one sitting. O'Brien clever, but I've got the wallop, Don't forget that."

One of the most serious objections to the big foot ball games is the lack of room to accommodate all who would like to see the game. When a sport becomes so unpopular that only 10,000 or 50,000 people can be seated in the stands and innumerable thous-ands are turned away from lack of room the situation is really serious. Probably the elimination of roughness would make room for everybody who wished to see the games.
